Brian and Sue Anthony have a long experience of Ballroom Dance at competition level. They are also keen Swing dancers and regularly teach Balboa. As a result they understand where you are coming from and how to build on your skills in another dance. You are at least an intermediate level dancer, with some understanding of footwork and connection, but you don't necessarily know anything about Ballroom or the Ballroom Waltz.

All profits go to Link Up; an award-winning Pinner based charity which empowers people with Learning Disabilities by integrating them into the wider community through fun and friendship.
